Aunt Betsey Champlin Goes Joy Riding at 91—Re-elected Town Council Meets Today for Organization—Details of the Vote—Enthusiastic Reception of Governor Pothier—Officers of Pawcatuck Fire District.

"Aunt Betsey" Champlin, nearly 92 years of age, the oldest woman in Westery, is in excellent spirit and fair health as the anniversary of her birth approaches. She took her first ride Wednesday in an automobile, as the guest of Mrs. John Loveland. Aunt Betsey had her choice of route and selected a ride to Stonington and Mystic, her first visit to the latter place in forty years.
Mrs. Loveland's large limousine was the conveyance used and Aunt Betsey thoroughly enjoyed the ride.

The re-election of the town councilmen means continuation of the officer whose selection are with the gift of the council, the principal offices being judge of probate, town solicitor and town sergeant. The present incumbents are Judge Edward M. Burke, Attorney Harry B. Agard and Herbert P. Clark, respectively. There is a salary of $800 each attached to the office of judge of probate and town solicitor, while the town sergeant is paid in fees that aggregate about $300.
A year ago the council decided to appoint no town solicitor, but to pay for the service of a lawyer whenever required. This plan did not work satisfactorily and after a trial of a few months Harry B. Agard was appointed town solicitor, succeeding Everett E. Kingsley, who succeeded Mr. Agard a year previous.

The new town council will meet this (Thursday) morning for organization and the transaction of business. As all the members of the council were re-elected, it is presumed that William L. Clarke will be elected president for the fourth term. He is the senior member of the body and the oldest highest vote cast, but which was 32 less than the total number of votes polled. Nor was there opposition to Elmer Barber as overseer of the poor, who received two votes less than the Pendletons and nine less than Town Clerk Whipple.

On the prohibition ticket, Julius H. Gates, who opposed Councilman Burdick, was the leader in the list of councilmen, receiving 35 votes more than his leading associate.

The following election returns were delayed in transmission:
Moderator, Eugene B. Pendleton, r and p, 472; town clerk, Everett E. Whipple, r and p, 479; first councilman, William L. Clarke, r, 353; John W. Conant, p, 133; second councilman, Albert H. Langworthy, r, 340; William H. Greene, p, 144; third councilman, C. Clarence Maxson, r, 330; B. Frank Greenman, p, 146; fourth councilman, Wayland A. Saunders, r, 340; Otis H. Chapman, p, 135; fifth councilman, William C. Culley, r, 333; James O. Babcock, p, 151; sixth councilman, Maurice W. Flynn, r, 340; G. King, p, 127; seventh councilman, Horace B. Burdick, r, 307; Julius H. Gates, p, 171; town treasurer and collector, James M. Pendleton, r and p, 472; assessor of taxes, three years, John J. Carney, r, 304; Isaac G. Barber, r, 128; overseer of poor, Elmer Barber, r and p, 470; school committee, three years, Albert H. Spicer, r, 237; Anne L. Waite, p, 146.

John Catto received two votes for seventh councilman.
Summary of the vote: Straight republican 261; straight prohibition 95; defective r, scratched ballots 151. Total vote 512. The total vote of the town of Westery is between 1,500 and 1,600, therefore less than a third of the total vote was polled.

Since the passage by fire of the plant of the Nichols & Langworthy Machine company, the village of Hope has gradually declined in commercial importance, and it is now announced that the Hope Valley postoffice, with postmaster at a salary of $1,000 a year is to be reduced to a fourth class office July 1. Changes in salaries of the postmaster in the following eleven places in Rhode Island will be in effect on that same date:
Appanoos, from $1,100 to $1,300; Block Island, $1,600 to $1,700; East Greenwich, $1,800 to $2,000; Newport, $2,200 to $3,300; Pawtucket, $3,200 to $3,400; Peace Dale, $1,400 to $1,500; Phoenix, $1,200 to $1,400; Riverpoint, $1,500 to $1,600; Wakefield, $1,700 to $1,800; Warren, $1,800 to $2,000; Woonsocket, $2,000 to $3,100.

The first floor of the unoccupied brick mill in Main street, the use of which has been given by William Seagrave to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, was crowded Tuesday evening, when the fair was formally opened by Gov. Aram, who made a brief opening address, which was followed by an informal reception. Ex-Gov. George H. Utter, Senator Louis W. Cullen, Representative Albert H. Langworthy, Judge John W. Sweeney and Rev. Peter McOscar served as the reception committee.
Governor Pothier, accompanied by his personal staff, arrived in Westery on the 7:30 train from Providence and received a cordial reception by the reception committee. The governor was escorted from the station to the fair by the Westery band. Fifth company, coast artillery corps, Division No. 1, Ancient Order Hibernians, and Narragansett council, Knights of Columbus, the governor being cordially greeted along the line of march.
The local organizations turned out in full ranks and made a fine appearance.

Pawcatuck's fire district held twenty-fourth annual session in Peleg S. Barber hose house, with Albert G. Main moderator and Paul H. Hillard clerk. The report of Chief Engineer Henry A. Stable showed there had been eight fires in Pawcatuck during the year and on two occasions assistance had been given the Westery fire department.
Claude I. Spencer, treasurer, reported receipts of $1,813.37, and expenditures of $5,729.53. There are outstanding notes to the amount of $9,917.50.
Collector Charles J. Norris had gathered in the sum of $6,357.52.
Albert R. Stillman, treasurer of the Peleg S. Barber fund, announced that the fund amounted to $637.50, and that the interest, $31.58, had been paid to the treasurer of the hose company.

The engineers were authorized to purchase 300 feet of new hose and to engage a janitor on a salary not to exceed $100 a year.
The district voted to the Peleg S. Barber hose company the sum of $300. A tax of three mills was laid. The treasurer and collector were required to furnish bonds of $2,000 each and the salary of collector was fixed at $50 and that of the treasurer at $25.
It was voted to procure uniforms at an expense not to exceed $20 each and to furnish caps and club to the fire police.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: Albert G. Martin, moderator; Paul H. Hillard, clerk; Charles I. Spencer, treasurer; Alexander R. Gavitt, collector; Paul H. Hillard, E. Everett Watrous, Thomas Crowley, assessors; Albert R. Stillman, Paul H. Hillard, auditors; Samuel D. Watrous, John McDonald, Charles J. Norris, fire wardens; Albert R. Stillman, trustee Peleg S. Barber fund; Henry A. Stable, chief engineer; John E. McMahon, Frank I. Dawley, Howard E. Reynolds, engineers; Charles J. Politicians who regard socialism as an unimportant and negligible phenomen are blinder than bats. President Taft, at his Michigan speech shows, has his eyes open to what it is and threatens. He knows—everybody who is at all conversant knows—that the organized socialist party contains only a small part of the modern world's socialism. Often not yet self-conscious, often in a rudimentary stage of development, socialism is spreading and diffusing itself among mankind, and some of the richest men on earth—as far as money makes riches—are its most efficient propagators. The organized socialist party grows, too—here as in Europe. In the presidential election of 1892, as the New York World reminds us, it polled 21,164 votes; year before last it polled 420,285. —Hartford Courant.
